Some Hope Seen For Oil Industry Strike Settlement

Auto Strike Threatens To Spread To Other Big Companies—Vote
Is Asked

PICTURE IS DARK FOR RECONVERSION

A ray of hope shone today in the oil workers' strike which has confronted the nation with the possibility of an acute shortage of gasoline and fuel oil, but the strike threat against the "Big Three" in the automobile industry became more serious.

Spokesmen for the oil workers' international union, CIO, expressed confidence that their dispute with the oil companies over their demand for a 30 per cent wage increase will be settled at the conference opening in Chicago tomorrow.

To Take More Strike Votes
In Detroit, Mich., however, leaders of the United Automobile Workers union CIO, moved rapidly to prepare the reconversion picture by permitting to take strike votes among Chrysler and Ford employees.

The UAW filed a petition for a strike vote against General Motors, the third largest and largest member of the "Big Three" last Saturday.

The strike vote would be taken in 96 General Motors plants throughout the nation which are under union contract, but union spokesmen said it would affect the corporation's other 40 and branches and a total of about 325,000 employees.

Chrysler employees were reported by their leaders to be overwhelmingly in favor of a strike vote. The Ford department of the union will meet in Detroit Sept. 29 and 30 to make its decision on a strike vote.

Plans Conference

Edgar L. Warren, head of the labor department's conciliation service will confer with oil companies.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Discovering a large number of autos parked along a road near the city late Saturday afternoon, PA New had visions of some excitement that might develop into a news story. Investigation proved that the crowd was merely attending an auction.

Continued rains of the past week have given a springlike tint to lawns around the city. Lawns, which had been badly burned out during the preceding dry spell are now a bright green.

Tabulation of the collection taken at the football game Friday night reveals that approximately $600 is the total of the fund contributed by the fans for aid of the Buller player who was injured in the game a week previously. It was a splendid contribution by New Castle fans.

Saturday of this week is the date for the next collection of waste paper. Do your share to make it a notable success. Salvage paper is still badly needed despite the war's end.

Streets of New Castle as a whole are in about as fine condition at the present time as ever in the city's history. Resurfacing and paving work of this and recent years have given New Castle miles of excellently surfaced streets.

Washington report today says President Truman has called upon the United States to contribute clothing again to prevent "unbearable hardships" among war sufferers.

Major Powers Will Discuss Reparations That Japan Must Pay

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(INS)—An early meeting of the major powers that participated in the Far Eastern war was in the offing today for discussion of the great reparations which Japan must pay for the spree of conquest she began in 1931.

Until then, when a detailed policy can be worked out among the claimant powers, Gen. Douglas MacArthur will have, in addition to his military duties, the administration of a vast industrial but battered empire.

Imperial Palace In Tokyo Burned Down, On May 25

Correspondent Learns Of Disaster In Tour Of Imperial Palace Grounds

By FRANK ROBERTSON
U. S. Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sept. 24.—(INS)—The Japanese imperial palace in Tokyo was wholly destroyed by fire on the night of May 25 of this year.

Fifty members of the palace staff lost their lives in fighting the flames.

This correspondent learned today in a tour of the imperial palace grounds that Emperor Hirohito and Empress Naeko escaped injury in the fire because they fortunately had moved to a small concrete building on the ground when air raids were intensified.

Many Treasures Destroyed
Many of the royal family's personal effects as well as priceless art treasures were destroyed by the fire which swept rapidly through the wooden 50-year-old building.

Only the stables which housed the emperor's famous white horse, "Hot-suki," and nearby administration buildings escaped destruction.

Today I passed through the 300-year-old walls and gained access to the secretey-shrouded palace grounds and inspected the fire-blackened ruins where the palace once stood.

Only the white stone steps and concrete foundation remained of the ornate many-domed imperial residence.

Constructed In Two Sections
The palace had been constructed in two sections. In the rear section, the royal family had living quarters while the front section was used for receptions on state occasions. Both sections were completely burned down.

Sotary Ishiwata, present imperial household minister told me today that a Japanese by the name of Matsudaira, a former ambassador to England and the United States, then held the household post.

Ishiwata said that there was no evidence to show that American bombs started the palace fire but that it may have been ignited by sparks from the huge conflagration which engulfed Tokyo on the night of May 25 after an incendiary raid.

They also said they believed that this would be a good thing because toward a plant that has been here a long time and which intends to expand. They asserted similar moves had been made for new plants.

The spokesmen pointed out that they had not been requested to appear before the city fathers but believed that it would prove a good gesture not only to plants already here but others which may some time want to come in.

Councilmen reported they would consider the suggestion.

At present the only thoroughfare into and from the plant is Glass street which needs improvement, it was reported.

Leftward Swing
Seen In Election
Results In France

PARIS, Sept. 24.—(INS)—A strong leftward swing was evident today as results of the French cantonal elections were tallied.

There were far fewer communist gains than had been anticipated, however, except in the Seine region.

The returns at 7 a. m. Paris time showed that the Socialists, which support Provisional President Gen. Charles DeGaulle, had elected 216 councilors, the radical Socialists 204, while DeGaulle's 30 popular Republican movement elected 60 and the communists 55.

The latest results showed that 732 had failed to win a clear-cut majority and must be balloted on again at next Sunday's run-off election.

Salvage Program
Ends September 30

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—(INS)—The state defense council announced today that the salvage committee had reported waste paper collections totaling 549,784 tons during the first eight months of the year.

Last month, the council said, paper collections amounted to 70,559 tons while tin can salvage totaled 765 tons compared with 395 tons in July.

The salvage program, launched in February, 1942, will be terminated September 30, the council added.

Bar Japanese Research Efforts On Atomic Bomb

Gen. MacArthur Also Orders
Control Over Wages
And Prices

RATIONING PLAN IS ALSO REQUIRED (BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur took a step to bar all Japanese research leading to the development of an atomic bomb today in a new directive to the Japanese government.

The new instructions to the Japanese foreshadowed a complete investigation of Japan's industrial and scientific agencies with the aim of stopping Nippon once and for all of war-making power.

Prohibits Experiments
The supreme commander's directive flatly prohibited Japanese scientists from performing experiments aimed at effecting the mass separation of uranium 235 from uranium of indubitable other research with radioactive materials.

The directive also included instructions which left the reconversion of Nippon's war-shattered economy in the hands of the Japanese government acting under Allied supervision.

Japanese officials were informed that they would be held responsible.

Shriners Host To Huge Crowd

Ceremonial Here Saturday
Attracts Many From Surrounding District

IS INITIATED

Lawrence Caravan, No. 13 A. A. O. N. M. S. of Syria Temple at Pittsburgh, proved real hosts here Saturday when they entertained more than 3,000 visiting Shriners from Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, at their second ceremonial meeting held in New Castle.

Joseph W. Hubbard, expressed his pleasure at the fine arrangements which Lawrence Caravan had made for the day, and the splendid manner in which they were carried out. President Howard S. Duff, of Lawrence Caravan, in turn praised the excellent work done by all those who served on the committees, which helped to make the occasion a most successful and enjoyable one.

Huge Number Fed
Eight hundred visitors were seated at lunch and 2,900 had dinner in the evening, a record number for the Cathedral.

The downtown business section was crowded for the great street parade which preceded the ceremonial and the ensuing program of entertainment, and they were not disappointed in the pageant, as the various units passed in review, attired in their own peculiar garb.

Strike Affects Big
New York Buildings

Elevator Operators And Maintenance Workers Walk Out In Lower Midtown Area

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Elevator operators and maintenance workers walked out on strike in the lower midtown area today and stopped all service in 975 business buildings, including the Empire State, the world's tallest structure.

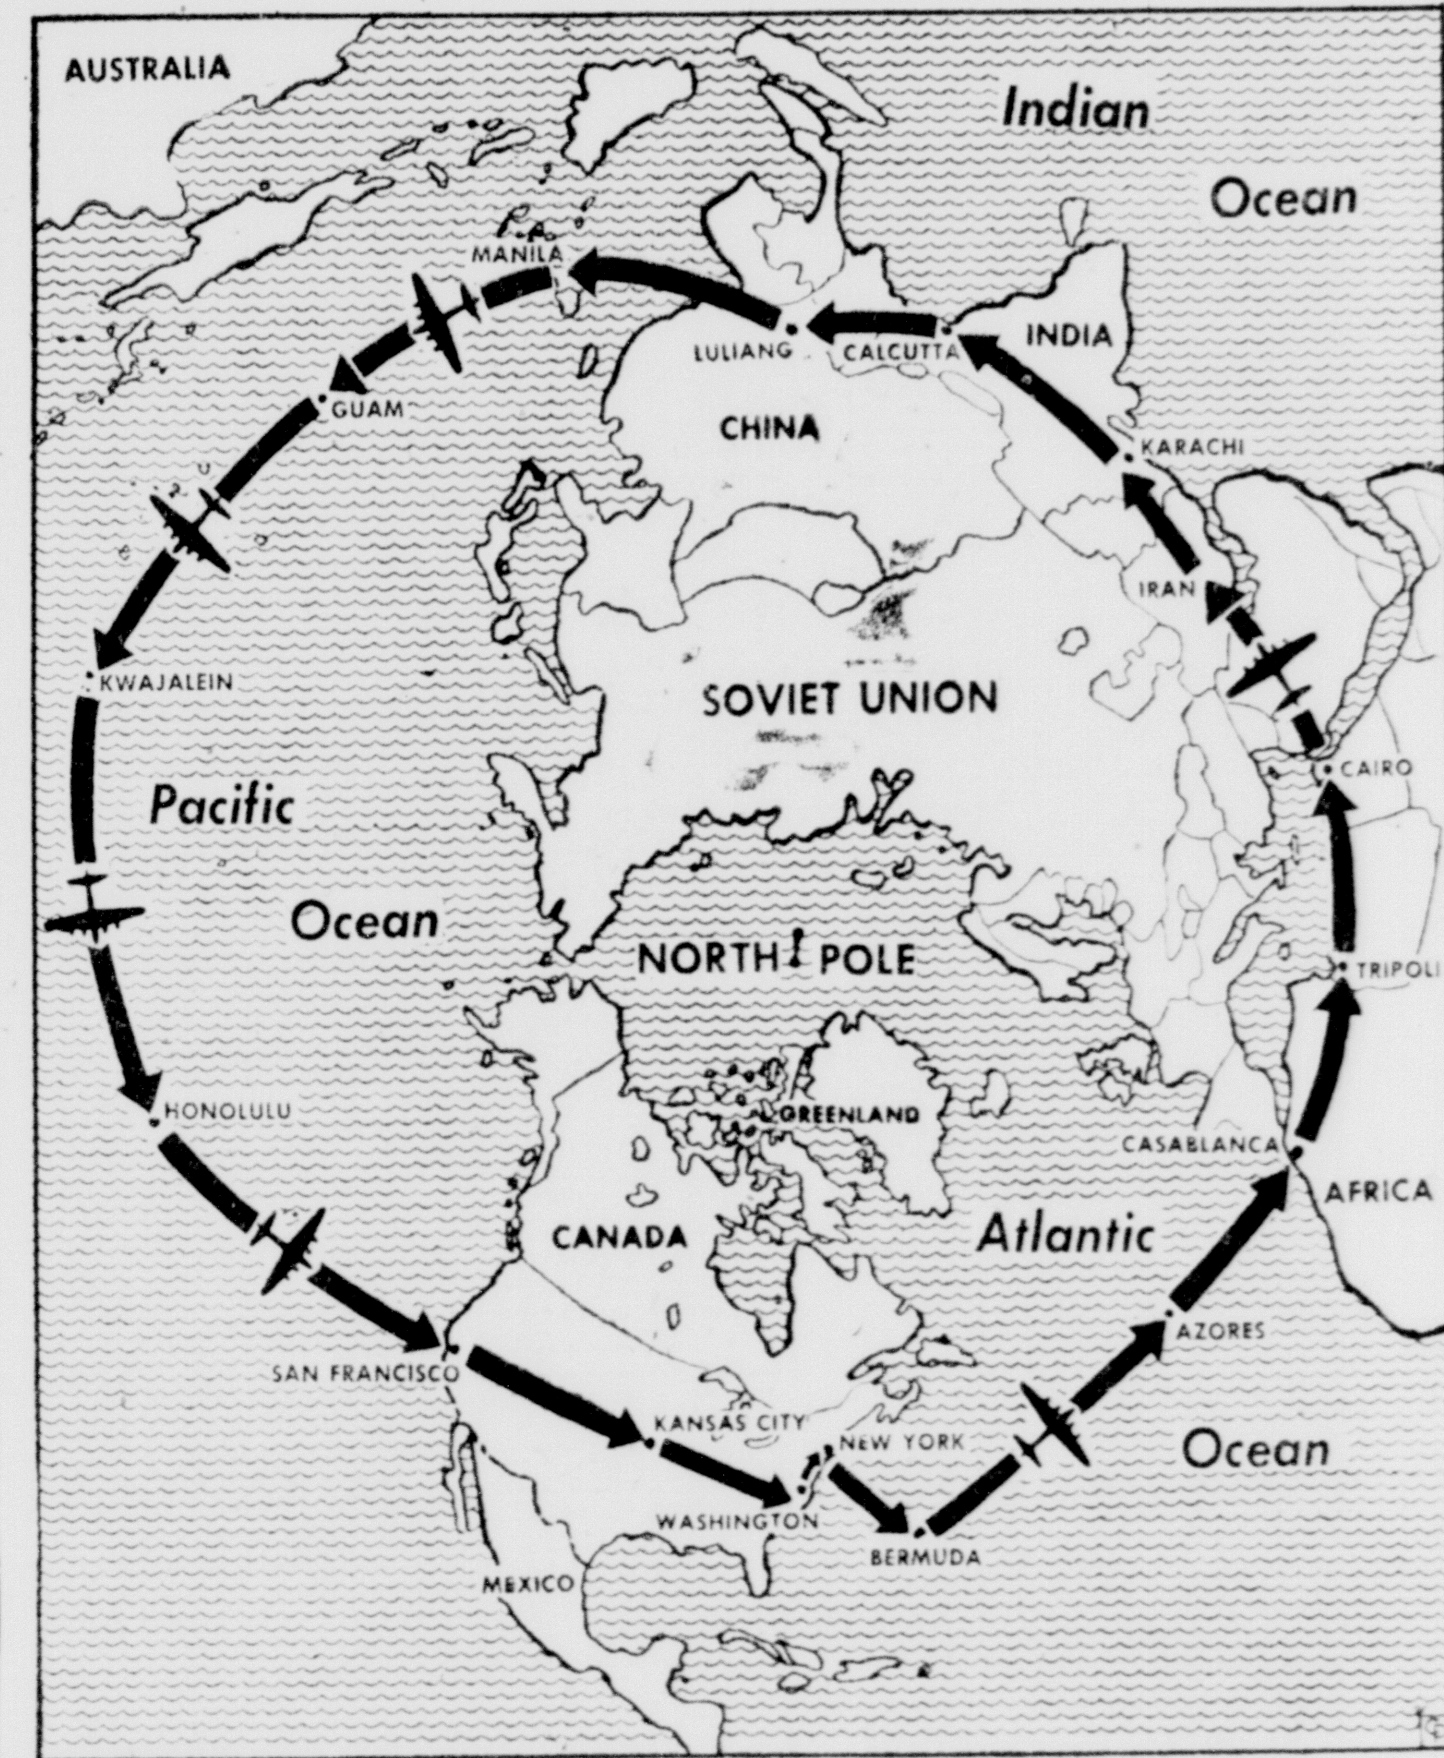

Carrying out their week-end threat to quit work until their dispute is settled, 11,000 members of locals 32-B, Building Service Employees International Union, AFL, and 600 superintendents of Local 164 answered an 8:30 a. m. (EST) strike order.

The walkout was the first general building service strike in New York since 1936.

In the great Empire State building alone, thousands of workers were stranded as the 125 building maintenance workers obeyed the strike call and shut off service in the structure's 72 elevators. The Empire State towers 102 stories into the air, and houses both civilian and government offices.

The strike went into effect just before the peak of the morning rush, which is between 8:45 and 9:15. It meant no work for many workers on the upper floors because to climb that high on the shoe-leather express would tax the strength of a mountain climber.

FIRST REGULAR ROUND-THE-WORLD AIR SERVICE

In this polar projection is given a top of the world view of the course to be followed when the first regular round-the-world air service begins operation next Friday. Taking off from Washington National Airport, a U. S. As the map shows the route is: Washington to New York, Luliang, China, Kwaialein, Guam, Kwaialein, Honolulu, San Francisco, Kansas City, and back to the starting point at Washington.

Gen. Wainwright Warns America To Be On Guard

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 24.—(INS)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright warned the nation today of another "Pearl Harbor" in the future, with some American cities as the target, unless the U. S. maintains a vigilant guard.

Addressing 15,000 persons in Syracuse's Archbold stadium, where he received the honorary degree of doctor of laws in Syracuse's welcome yesterday to the hero of Bataan and Corregidor, Wainwright said:

"More than a million American men have died or been wounded in this terrible war against two aggressive nations. We must keep our country strong and free, especially in the world of tomorrow with its terrible advances in science."

"We cannot be careless again if we are to retain our freedom."

The Japanese, he said, are still "back in the days of the spear, bow and arrow in their thinking."

"We must watch the Japs," he said, "for while they appear subservient and co-operative today, I do not believe they are truly repentant."

President Back In White House

Returns From Week-End
Cruise And Stay In
Chesapeake Bay

PLANS DECISION
ON ATOMIC BOMB

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(INS)—President Truman, back in the White House today after a week-end on Jefferson Island in Chesapeake Bay, made it plain that he will take full responsibility for the atomic bomb when the proper time comes.

Shortly after his return to the executive mansion, the President told reporters that he would make the decision on disposition of the deadliest weapon of all time on the basis of the nation's welfare.

He indicated that matters of foreign and domestic policy would be considered before the decision is made.

Reports Untrue
The President said that published reports that Commerce Secretary Wallace had suggested at a cabinet meeting that atomic secrets be shared with the Russians were completely untrue.

Meanwhile, Wallace in a Chicago news conference, also branded the reports as "grossly inaccurate." He said:

"The control of atomic energy is indivisible from the problems of peace and economic advance. It is a problem that calls for our greatest wisdom and foresight."

"We must learn how to use the tremendous forces we have discovered for the benefit of man and not for his destruction."

Programs aimed at this objective will be presented for the consideration of the board.

Congress Will Make Decision On Atomic Bomb

White House Says Congress
Will Decide Controls Set
Up For Secret

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(INS)—The White House said today that Congress will decide what controls are to be set up around future disposition of the atomic bomb.

President Truman, it was also disclosed, will make his own recommendations on the atomic bomb to Congress "fairly soon."

The announcement was made this morning by Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross in clarification of the president's disclosures on the future of the atomic bomb last night.

"The president does not set himself up as the sole arbiter of how the atomic bomb shall be controlled," Ross said.

"He will submit his own recommendations to Congress fairly soon, and Congress will make the decision."

No Hint On Decision
Ross said that the president quite naturally has consulted with his cabinet on the vital question and that it is the president's responsibility of deciding what recommendations he shall make.

On his return to the White House after a two-day vacation on Jefferson Island in Chesapeake Bay, Mr. Truman told reporters at an impromptu news conference that he would take full responsibility for the atomic bomb when the proper time comes.

Ross' announcement today, however, coincided with previous announcements from Mr. Truman that he would send a message to Congress on the bomb.

Gen. MacArthur Moves For Free Press In Japan

Orders Japanese Government To Remove Itself
From Control Of News
Agencies

FIVE RULES ARE GIVEN FOR JAPAN (BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur acted today to establish a free press in Japan by ordering the Japanese government to remove itself from direct or indirect control of news agencies and newspapers.

The order, headed "Classification of press from government," contained five points directed toward achieving MacArthur's goal of assuring the Japanese public uncontrolled, truthful news. They were:

1. In order to further encourage liberal tendencies in Japan and establish free access to the world's news sources, the Japanese government must take steps forthwith to eliminate government created barriers to dissemination of news and remove itself from control of news agencies and newspapers.

No Preferential Treatment
2. There must be no preferential treatment of any news service existing or which may be created in the future. Foreign news services must be permitted to serve the Japanese press to the extent the press desires.

3. All government-controlled communications facilities must be made equally available to all national and international news agencies and the distribution of news within the Japanese home islands will not be a special privilege.

4. The government must rescind an order prohibiting reception of foreign news via wireless by any agency except the communications ministry. Interception of any news broadcasts by the United Nations as a public service must be permitted. Property rights of news transmitted by recognized agencies must be observed.

5. The present system of distribution of news within the home islands will be permitted under strict censorship until private enterprise is able to take over.

World's Largest Plant Produced 7 Billion Bullets

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24.—(INS)—The United States Cartridge company produced the staggering total of more than seven and a half billion rounds of rifle and machine gun ammunition at the St. Louis Ordnance plant.

The figure was released with the closing after three years and nine months of wartime production, of the world's largest plant devoted exclusively to the manufacture of 30 and 50-caliber ammunition.

With a production greater than the total of all ammunition plants in World War I, the 120-million-dollar St. Louis plant was operated by a subsidiary of Olin Industries, Inc., which made other record-breaking wartime contributions in its Winchester and Western Cartridge company divisions.

The 300-acre plant was the only government-owned ammunition facility erected on a metropolitan site. This huge enterprise, located within the city limits of St. Louis had a peak payroll of over 34 thousand persons, but hired, trained and supervised 86 thousand persons during the period of its operation. From its inception the plant issued over four million payroll checks totaling over 161 million dollars, of which approximately 16 million dollars went into War Bonds.

If all the ammunition were laid end to end the cartridges would extend a distance of over 455 thousand miles, or 18 and one-half times around the world at the equator.

Dr. Alfred L. Hoffmaster will be the speaker at the regular noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday noon, when he will discuss the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill. Don Matthews, of Johnstown, is the new district governor, having been elected at the Altoona convention, word received by the club states.

policy that was followed in the Potsdam agreement will rule in regard to Japan. But the claims of the various governments are believed to be more complex than was the case in Europe. To some extent these may be met on a "spoils of war" basis. Each occupying army would have first claim to Japanese property in its hands.

This might work out in the case of Korea, where Japan invested more than a half billion dollars prior to 1938 and considerably more as war plans grew. However, this probably would nowhere near suffice Korean claims after 35 years of subjugation and plunder by Japan.

Complex Manchuria Problem

The problem in Manchuria also will prove complex. Russia is in control of a substantial portion and may stake a claim to the property in her possession, much of which was developed under Japanese rule and some of which can be regarded as Japanese investment. China, however, previously controlled Manchuria and will expect part of her bill to be paid from Japanese assets there. Some simple formula for meeting these claims, partly from heavy industry in Japan and partly from Japanese assets abroad, will have to be found. The real headache is likely to come to the officials who attempt to divide the portions.

for establishing and maintaining close control over wages and prices of essential commodities.

Jap Leaders Face Trial

The new directive made no mention of apprehension of Jap war criminals, indicating that the supreme commander is satisfied with the cooperation of the Jap government in this regard.

The supreme commander has pledged that all Jap leaders accused of war crimes will be brought to trial soon but has set no definite date for the meeting of military tribunals scheduled to hear the cases.

The emphasis on prevention of Japanese atomic bomb research was also reflected by inclusion of an order to the Japanese to make available for Allied inspection all books and records, including patents, or government and private industrial plants and trade and research associations.

To Inspect Plants

All plants which manufactured war implements were to be opened to Allied inspection as well as factories which handled the following items: iron and steel, chemicals, nonferrous materials, aluminum, magnesium, synthetic rubber, synthetic oil, machine tools, radio and electrical equipment, automotive vehicles, merchant ships and heavy machinery.

All such plants as those designated were to submit complete inventories of stockpiles of finished products.

Japan's now dormant importing and exporting business also will be closely controlled by MacArthur's headquarters under terms of the directive. Neither imports nor exports will be allowed without prior approval of occupation headquarters.

All Japanese laboratories and other scientific organizations were ordered to submit full reports including the purposes of their establishments.

MacArthur also instructed the Japanese to set up a strict rationing program which will insure equitable distribution of all essential commodities in line with his announced policy of allowing the Japs to wrestle with their own peacetime problems.

O. A. Knight, president of the oil workers' international union, said the strike might be over even before the end of the week.

Several oil companies have offered a 15 per cent increase, but this was rejected by Knight and local unions.

Nineteen plants have been closed, with nearly 5,000 strikers out in refineries in the Chicago area, more than 20,000 more in Texas and several thousand in Michigan and Ohio. The gasoline shortage has been felt severely in some areas with a prospect of a return to rationing if the strike continues.

Out in the Pacific northwest 60,000 lumber workers struck, joining the more than 225,000 idle in the nation, 80,000 of them in Detroit, mostly in the automotive industry.

Premise Outlined

Mr. Truman said that the discussion of the bomb at last Friday's cabinet meeting was solely for the purpose of reaching a decision. The President added that Secretary of War Stimson had outlined a premise for disposal of the bomb. He told newsmen that he could not say what the premise was at this time.

Mr. Truman explained that the cabinet discussion was woven around ideas that every cabinet member thought might be best for the country and the world. He said that Wallace had not taken a more prominent part in the discussion than the other cabinet officers.

Senator Pepper Favors Extending Credits To U.S.S.R.

Talks To Soviet Newspapersmen
During Visit To Moscow
On Situation

MOSCOW, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Sen. Claude E. Pepper (D. Florida), went on record Saturday as being of the opinion that American exporters would benefit greatly from extension of proper credits by the United States to the U.S.S.R.

Pepper, who was scheduled to leave Moscow this morning for Teteran, told Soviet newspapermen that he personally believed the United States would aid in the reconstruction of Russia.

Declaring that he was "highly impressed" by the courtesy and co-operation shown him during his 10-day visit to the Soviet capital, the U.S. legislator added that he "considered Stalin one of the greatest men of history and of our times."

He is a hard-headed, clear-sighted man who guided Russia through its most difficult period, Pepper told the press.

Pepper conferred with Premier Joseph Stalin during his stay, but not much was known about the subject of their discussions. However, it was understood that the talks covered a broad field.

Pepper is known to support the idea of expansion of foreign trade and of Soviet-American relations. He particularly is an ardent supporter of the idea that not only large, but also small, business should take part in foreign trade, particularly with Russia whose market is "bottomless."

Besides seeing Stalin and other high-ranking Soviet officials, Pepper managed a full program while in Moscow. He attended three ballets and an opera, and visited several museums, Lenin's tomb, churches, collective farms and large manufacturing plants.

SPOTLIGHT Of Today

(International News Service)

DEAN ACHESON

Dean Acheson, whose hotly contested nomination as under-secretary of state comes up for confirmation in the Senate today, has been serving as undersecretary for the last month.

Dean Gooderman Acheson was born April 11, 1893, in Middletown, Conn. Following his student days at Yale and Harvard law school he served as secretary to the late Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis—a job usually reserved for the brightest graduates of Harvard university.

He served as an ensign in World War I, then practiced law from 1921 to 1941 except for a brief period as undersecretary of the treasury in 1933.

Following his appointment in 1941 as assistant secretary of state he spoke out as an advocate of aid to England and was instrumental in congressional approval of the Bretton Woods monetary plans and reciprocal trade agreements.

He stands for complete reorganization of the Japanese government and does not favor retention of Hirohito as emperor.

Marine Sergeants Here For Recruits

To Interview Young Men 17 To 25
Interested In Joining
U. S. Marines

Modern Leathernecks have opportunities to serve in numerous highly specialized branches, says Major Donald B. Cooley, Jr., officer in charge of the Marine recruiting office in Pittsburgh.

The major has sent two Marine sergeants to New Castle, Monday through Wednesday, to interview young men between 17 and 25 who are interested in joining the Marines.

Seasoned Marines veterans of many battles are instructors at the famed Marine Corps schools, the major pointed out. "The Marine Corps has the reputation of having the best trained and best equipped men."

One of the highly specialized branches of the Marine Corps is communication. To teach the science of communication the Marine Corps has developed intensive training programs at several bases.

"Complete in every detail, these schools take picked Leathernecks for instruction in every phase of communication from basic telephony through advanced signal and radio work," the major said.

Marines also have the opportunity of enrolling in the Marine Corps Institute and thereby continue their academic training.

Admiral Nimitz Tells Why Japan Couldn't Win War

Some Mistakes Made By Japanese War Leaders Are Cited By U. S. Admiral

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Japan's biggest mistake in the war was in not concentrating on destruction of American sea power.

That was the opinion today of Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz as he returned to Pearl Harbor to continue direction of the navy's demobilization program.

In his first news conference since returning yesterday he described the atomic bomb as "just another weapon" and added that its use will be dependent on planes for many years to come.

And planes will remain dependent on sea power for the establishment of air bases, he pointed out.

Too Many Objectives

The commander in chief of the Pacific Ocean areas said the "Japs had too many objectives and spread their forces out too thin."

The United States won the war through sea power—meaning the ability to carry on the war and to exert military power beyond our country's continental limits.

The navy's primary functions in the war, the five-star admiral said, were the establishment of bases for amphibious invasion and of routes and anchorages for merchant ships bringing vital supplies and munitions to battle areas.

The Pacific fleet chief promised the navy would make every effort to expedite return of ships and personnel to the United States in time for Navy Day, Oct. 27.

His proposed Navy Day appearance in New York depends on the secretary of the navy, he said, although he plans to visit congress in Washington on Oct. 5.

New Rules To Keep 300,000 From Overseas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(INS)—An additional 300,000 officers and enlisted men will be relieved of overseas duty today by the army's new screening scores governing transfer to the armies of occupation.

The war department announced that enlisted men will not be sent out of the continental United States if they have a critical point score of 35 or more as of Sept. 2, or if they are 37 years of age, or if they are 34 years old with more than one year of honorable service.

Regular army personnel or volunteers for overseas service are not affected by the newly lowered scores which marked the first time exemptions have been computed for officers.

Officers' computation. Officers will not be sent out of the country if their point score or age as of Sept. 2 computation is equal to or exceeds:

Male officers—except medical department officers—48 points.

Male officers, medical corps and dental corps—45 points or 40 years of age.

Male officers, medical corps and dental administrative corps—30 points or 35 years of age.

Nurses—12 points or 30 years of age.

Medical department dieticians or physical therapists—18 points or 30 years of age.

As previously announced, Women's Army Corps personnel will not be transferred overseas.

Discharge Points. The critical discharge point score for enlisted men still remains at 80 points, but is scheduled to be reduced to 70 points on Oct. 1 and 60 points on Nov. 1. The point system will be abolished late this winter when men with at least two years service will be released from the army.

War Department officials said that the new scores for overseas replacements will result in utilization of shipping to the best advantage by eliminating transportation to overseas theaters of men who have less than a year to serve before they would be eligible for discharge.

Thirty-six point men and 48-point officers will now be screened out of units destined for overseas and individuals who fall into the new category will not be transferred to the Pacific as replacements or casualties.

Hit-Run Motorists Kill Three Persons In Pittsburgh Area

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Hit-and-run motorists killed three persons and injured another in the Pittsburgh district over the week end.

Louis Augier, 68, of Sturgeon, and his wife were struck while walking along the Noblestown road by an automobile which had sideswiped two other cars. Augier was killed and his wife treated for injuries.

Two other victims were Mrs. Ellen Sample, 46, Pittsburgh, and Frank Muskur, 62, Shaler township. This was the heaviest hit-and-run toll since the lifting of the gas ban, officials said.

Injured Flyer In Deshon Hospital

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 24.—(INS)—Pvt. John W. Fadler, Pottstown, Pa., whose body was badly battered when his airplane crashed 10 miles east of Connellsville, today was in Deshon General hospital.

Pvt. Fadler, en route to Pittsburgh to have dinner with friends, was rushed to Connellsville hospital after the crash with his head cut, upper and lower jaws, nose and angles broken, teeth knocked out and his lower abdomen punctured.

He was given blood plasma immediately and rushed to Deshon for an emergency operation.

Fadler told doctors and nurses he believed he had fallen asleep at the controls. He was on a three-day pass and planned to visit in Pittsburgh before flying to Champaign, Ill., to report for duty.

The plane was practically demolished, with debris scattered more than 100 feet.

lished a story by one Peter F. Drucker and what he has to say about the so-called Communists of Russia is rather illuminating. I would recommend the reading of it to every socialistically and communistically inclined citizen. Mr. Drucker starts out by quoting Joseph Stalin's words, uttered by Stalin himself in a speech he made in 1931.

The quotation is as follows: "What is the cause of industrial inefficiency? It is the demand for equal incomes, which makes the unskilled man lose all interest in becoming skilled and in the prospect of advancement. The key to industrial efficiency is an income scale which reflects correctly the difference between skilled and unskilled work. Income must be paid according to work done and not according to need."

Now, that statement is certainly startling. The idea expressed by Stalin in that speech is the key idea of Industrial United States—of Capitalism. If you will, it is not the watchword of the CIO or the AFL. Neither Mr. Green nor Mr. Murray will subscribe to that statement, and they are supposed to have some Communist leanings, at least. Their idea of paying workmen the same hourly pay to a bricklayer, to a carpenter, to a mason, to a machinist or to any other craftsman. The primary idea of wages with the present Union set-up in the United States is absolute equality of wages, no matter how efficient is the worker. If a bricklayer, for instance, can lay fifteen hundred bricks a certain length of time, as against one thousand bricks for the same length of time, performed by a fellow workman, he must be cut down to slow up. In other words, a bricklayer's ambition to become an outstanding bricklayer, and thereby receive more pay for his work, is very much discouraged. And should he be paid any more for his work, there is an immediate demand that all bricklayers should receive the same wages as that paid to him, and if the demand is not met there is a strike in the offing.

Some of the highlights of Mr. Drucker's story are:

Mr. Stalin says that the demand for equality is the enemy of Socialism.

Good work must be rewarded and poor work must be punished.

The Russian worker now receives a wage according to what he produces. As a base for this pay for instance, he receives one ruble for each piece he turns out. His pay, therefore, for an eight-hour day, is eight rubles if he produces up to standard. If his production lags by the standard, he is severely penalized. A worker turning out six pieces a day instead of the expected eight, receives only four and one-half rubles. A drop of twenty-five per cent in production is thus punished by cutting the pay more than forty per cent. Any drop beyond twenty-five per cent, if it lasted for some time, would be reported to the local Community Party and Soviet Police and might land the worker in jail with a charge of sabotage against him. On the other hand, the worker who managed to produce ten units per day instead of the expected eight, would receive fourteen rubles; if he produced eleven pieces, his pay would be jumped to sixteen rubles. A good worker under this scheme may make two or even three times the standard wage for a short period.

If a worker suggests a workable scheme to increase the production of his department, he is paid a bonus. Not only the worker himself receives a bonus for increasing his output, but the foreman is rewarded for an increase in the output of his department. A foreman who succeeds in doing the same amount of work with fewer workers receives a bonus between one-quarter and one-half of the wage bill saved over a three months' period. In other words, the foreman in Russian shops operates upon a glorified piece-work schedule.

General superintendents of Russian factories receive pay in money, goods, privileges and tax exemptions, their pay resembling that of the President of an American railroad or a great American industrial corporation.

Speaking of income taxes, the American executive pays a heavy income tax on say a Fifteen Thousand Dollar income. The Soviet executive pays little or no tax. The highest income-tax rate in Russia is about ten per cent, and most Russian industrial managers and engineers do not even pay that.

I said in a Mud Puddle some time ago that I believed Russia was on the way to becoming a Capitalistic nation and Mr. Drucker sort of bears me out in this statement.

Mr. Drucker tells of a general superintendent of a great steel works who received a monthly salary of two thousand rubles, with an equal bonus in addition. He lives in a well built, three-story, fourteen room house, complete with billiard room, play room for his children, music room and study, and with a small deer park in the rear—a house that cost eighty thousand rubles, the furniture another one hundred seventy thousand rubles, or as much together as one hundred seventy unskilled Russian earned in a whole year. The same house would cost about two hundred thousand dollars in America, and which as Mr. Drucker states, is definitely an estate in the upper millionaire bracket. And this general superintendent is just used by Dr. Drucker as an example of what the key industrial men receive from the Soviet government.

There is also another straw which shows how the wind is blowing. Only the successful worker—he who earns bonuses or becomes a foreman, is enabled to have his children receive in Russia any higher education. The children of industrial executives, together with the children of government officials and professional men have a priority—amounting to almost a monopoly—on higher education. Less than ten per cent of the children of Russian families are eligible to receive such an education, so that today only the people in the higher income groups, on the whole, can afford to give their children a high school or a college education.

In other words, what does Union Labor, rank and file, think of this form of Communism?

New Castle Sailor On First War Ship To Sail Tokyo Bay

ON THE USS SOUTHERLAND IN TOKYO BAY, Aug. 23.—(Delayed)—William Edward Graham, water tender 3-c, 306 Fairmont avenue, New Castle, Pa., is serving on this destroyer which was the first United States warship to enter Tokyo Bay. At 11 a. m. the Southernland led three minesweepers into the channel, all at general quarters ready to receive an attack.

The destroyer led the group through the channel without trouble, dropping anchor five miles off the Yokosuka naval base at 1:27 p. m.

Crewmen topside saw the battered battleship Nagato at anchor, merchant ships and a destroyer beached or sunk and small island forts blasted by previous bombings.

Swimming Classes Begin This Evening

All girls who have registered for swimming at the George Washington and Ben Franklin pools are reminded that this evening is the first night for classes, with other classes scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, according to Arthur Alexander, director of the Red Cross swimming classes. Classes begin at 7 o'clock and 8:30 on each of the three nights, with room for more women in both Monday classes and in the 8:30 Thursday class at Washington, and in any class at Ben Franklin except Monday at 8:30 and Thursday at 7 o'clock.

All swimmers are to report this week promptly at the hour for which they are scheduled, for a foot examination and final registration.

NEW YORK.—(INS)—The more than 3,500 officers and men aboard one of the Navy's largest aircraft carriers wear out 100 pairs of shoes each week, reports Ships magazine. On the ship is a completely equipped cobbler's shop to repair them.

Sordid Story Told At Trial

Woman Witness Tells Of Gas Chamber Murders
At Concentration
Camp

GUARDS SELECTED MURDER VICTIMS

LUENEBURG, Germany, Sept. 24.—(INS)—A sordid story of how women victims were chosen on Christmas Eve for death in a Nazi concentration camp gas chamber was related today at the trial of Josef Kramer, the "beast of Belzen," and 44 other defendants.

A young Jewess, Zofia Litwinka, told how she herself was put into the gas chamber at Oswiecim (Auschwitz) but fortunately gained her release.

Known as "the woman in the gas chamber," the witness testified that on Christmas Eve more than 3,000 Jewesses at Oswiecim were forced to participate in a parade to enable Nazi guards to select their victims.

Points To SS Leader
When the prosecutor, British Col. T. M. Backhouse, asked her who was in charge of the parade she pointed to SS leader Hessler.

As a nurse helped the sobbing witness from the court she glanced again toward Hessler and cried: "Here is the murderer responsible for the death of so many."

It was learned meanwhile that Kramer not only was the head of the Belzen and Oswiecim camps but also was used by the Nazis as an expert trouble shooter at lesser concentration sites.

The escape from lethal fumes in the gas chamber by Zofia Litwinka was miraculous. She told the court that any thought she would live to testify against those who had persecuted her was out of the question.

"Naked and like animals we were loaded into trucks and taken to the crematorium," she said of her most terrifying ordeal.

"The whole truck was tipped up and we were tumbled out like a cartload of potatoes."

"I never thought I should be here in court to tell the tale."

Tells of Scenes
The witness told how the victims, tears streaming from their eyes, cried and then began shouting at each other. Some of the distraught began fighting with each other. There were healthy people and weak people herded into the gas chamber.

"Then I saw fumes coming in from the window," she said.

"I coughed very violently. Tears streamed out of my eyes. A choking sensation gripped my throat."

The ordeal became so intense she could no longer look at any of the others, each of whom then was engaged only in what was happening to himself.

"At that moment" she went on, "I heard my name called. I did not have the strength to answer but raised my arm. A man grabbed my arm and pulled me out."

The witness, identifying 14 of the accused, pointed to one female guard, told of seeing the Nazi beat one girl to death for failing to comply with certain foul instructions.

"I could look no longer, and ran from the kitchen," the Jewess declared.

"She dragged the girl from the kitchen and continued to beat her to death."

Asked how the girl had died, Zofia Litwinka said the guard "beat her until she died and when dead still kicked her."

"Then," the witness added, "she returned to the kitchen and laughed hysterically."

Predicts 90,000 Jobs Are Looming In Eastern Penna.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—(INS)—The shadow of unemployment for 90,000 workers was brightened today by the prediction of retiring Regional War Manpower Commissioner Paul C. Lewis that 90,000 openings will be available soon in the area.

The 30,000 unemployed, Lewis said, represents the approximate number of displaced war workers expected in the next 90 days. The 90,000 openings, he said, will be aided by the expanding wholesale and retail trades for fall and Christmas trading.

Estimates, Lewis said, were based on a survey of more than 2500 business establishments and manufacturing plants in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

Numerically, at least, there is sufficient demand to absorb all displaced war workers," Lewis asserted. "Not all of them will be absorbed," he pointed out, "because of the difference in job specifications, wage rates and other factors."

The report which covered the counties of Philadelphia, Bucks, Delaware, Montgomery, part of Chester, Camden, Gloucester and part of Burlington showed the following number of estimated jobs available:

Construction industry, 25,000; retail and wholesale trade, 30,000; finance, insurance and service, 10,000; manufacturing, 13,400; food, 2000; tobacco, 2000; textiles, 3000; apparel, 2000; iron and steel, 1600; and automobiles, 1500.

Officer Gets Life In Wife's Slaying

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 24.—A week's courtroom interlude, possibly not the last, is over for Lieutenant Sam C. Epps, back in a prison cell to serve a life sentence.

The dashing young army officer, whom an all-male jury convicted Saturday on a charge of slaying his delicate, pretty young wife for the love of a glamorous war plant chemist, accepted his fate stoically.

One avenue of hope was left for him, however, as the defense moved for a new trial. The motion will be heard later.

Epps heard the verdict without the flicker of an eyelid, the same emotional calm with which he heard reviewed time and again the bizarre details of his wife's death and clandestine burial in a foxhole last January.

Only seven days in the year have been agreed upon by all the states and the District of Columbia as legal or public holidays: New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Independence Day, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas.

BANDIT FIRST GIVES FRIENDLY GREETING

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Samuel Himmel, 30 service station proprietor, thought an armed bandit was just a friend pulling a joke.

The robber drove into Himmel's station with a Hy. Sam, then asked for his dough.

Sam paid no heed. But when the bandit growled it was not a joke, but a "holdup" and emphasized it with a shot, Sam readily forked over $250 in cash.

CROPS BENEFITED

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Favorable weather benefited Pennsylvania's vegetable crops during the first two weeks of September and offset late summer short-ages. It was reported today by the federal-state crop reporting service.

Supplies of vegetables on markets increased rapidly and demand dropped considerably for crops in season, the service stated.

Good yields of sweet corn, small tomatoes, carrots and fall cabbage were reported, the service added.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)—A sixty-dollar wrist watch may seem a little high to pay for two loaves of bread, but T. Sgt. Thomas C. Farrow, an Eighth Air Force B-17 gunner, was being marched with other American prisoners when he came across a German farm house and made the transaction with the farmer.

U. S. Lost Eleven Aircraft Carriers Throughout War

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(INS)—The Navy reported today that 11 American aircraft carriers were sunk and 30 damaged in three and a half years of war.

The support carrier, Block Island, was the only carrier casualty of the Atlantic war.

The others fell victim to Japanese air, surface and submarine operations. American flat tops were hit by 48 armor-piercing shells fired by Jap warships, 10 aerial bombs, 45 kamikaze planes and 21 torpedoes.

Most damaged of the carriers was the Enterprise, the only capital ship in the fleet to hold a presidential unit citation.

She was hit six times, but avenged her wounds by taking a toll of more than 1,000 attacking Japanese planes.

The Franklin and the Intrepid were each hit four times, while the Saratoga suffered damage on three occasions.

Gold Star Carriers

The gold star carriers were: Lexington, sunk May 8, 1942, in the battle of the Coral Sea by two torpedoes and two bomb hits.

Yorktown, sunk June 7, 1942, in a three-day action during the battle of Midway by three bomb hits, two aerial torpedoes and two submarine torpedoes.

Wasp, sunk September 15, 1942, off the Solomons by two or three submarine torpedoes which struck her bomb magazines.

Hornet, sunk in a day-long action off Santa Cruz Island on October 26, 1942, after she was hit by six bombs, three aerial torpedoes and two divebombers.

Princeton, sunk east of Luzon on October 24, 1944, after she was struck by a 250-pound enemy bomb which caused serious fires that finally exploded her bomb stores.

Support carriers sent to the bottom by the enemy were the Liscombe Bay, sunk off the Gilberts November 24, 1944, in the western Atlantic by three German submarine torpedoes; Block Island, sunk May 29, 1944, in the western Atlantic by three German submarine torpedoes; Gambier Bay, sunk east of Samar by enemy naval guns.

Also, the St. Lo, sunk east of Samar, October 25, 1944, by suicide planes; the Ommaney Bay, sunk by suicide plane January 4, 1945, south of Mindoro; and the Bismarck Sea, struck by two suicide planes February 21, 1945, off two Jims.

Other large carriers on which the Japs scored bull-eyes included the Saratoga, the Bunker Hill, Hancock, Essex, Ticonderoga, Randolph, Independence, Belleau Wood, Cabot, Langley and San Jacinto.

Escort carriers damaged by the Japs were the Fanshaw Bay, the Kaitum Bay, Kikun Bay, White Plains, Sangamon, Sanneer, Suwannee, Marcus Island, Savo Island, Kadsashan Bay, Salamania, Lunga Point and Wake Island.

The soldier took the boy to the New Castle hospital, according to police.

Hospital officials today reported the boy had sustained wounds of the face and an injured right leg and right arm and wrist.

Japan's Financial Operations Under Allied Restrictions

TOKYO, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's series of instructions to the Japanese government today included a measure which restricts Japanese financial operations with foreign countries.

The supreme Allied commander banned any financial transactions with foreign countries either through currency, bullion or negotiable instruments of any nature.

MacArthur demanded revision of existing Japanese laws to prohibit export or import of gold or silver coin, gold, silver or platinum bullion, currency, securities, checks, bank drafts, bills of exchange, powers of attorney, notes or other instruments, as well as all suspected evidences of indebtedness or evidences of property ownership.

MacArthur said any such transactions are illegal without prior approval of the Allied command and the Japanese ministry of finance.

Workers Break Picket Lines

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Approximately 70 AFL picketing workers broke a CIO picket line of 250 union members today at the Standard Oil Company Refinery in Cleveland.

There was no serious violence aside from brief flurries of fist swinging as the AFL members, led by union business agents and Secretary Thomas Lennan of the Cleveland Federation of Labor, marched en masse through the lines of the striking CIO-oil workers.

The CIO members were ordered by their leaders not to offer any physical resistance to the construction men, but 25 mounted policemen closely guarded the back-to-work move.

Allege Attempt To Steal Thomas' Car

After Louis Spelich, South Jefferson street, and another as yet unknown young man had attempted to take the private car of Fire Chief James E. Thomas from alongside Central Fire department at 11-10 p. m. Saturday, Spelich was captured by Fireman "Mickie" Rohrer and turned over to police, according to Police Chief Robert D. Hanna. Firemen Hugh Horton and Merle Brunton reportedly saw the men tampering with the car and the successful chase began.

Chief Hanna said Spelich was being held at police headquarters and his reported accomplice sought.

SERVICE MEN ARE GIVEN PERSONAL TAX EXEMPTION

City Solicitor Robert McKinney White today reported a large number of persons, now in military service, are receiving notices of personal tax assessments because they or their relatives, having failed to report to the assessor's office, the persons assessed are in service. In some instances, taxes paid, have been refunded.

White reported that it is impossible for the several city officials to know the names and identities of all the people who are in service. He explained that sometime ago council adopted a resolution exonerating from the payment of personal taxes all persons in service and their dependents.

That resolution can be applied to the individual cases only when the relatives or friends of the service men reported to the city assessor of the city treasurer the status of that soldier, sailor or marine, he explained. So, if your son, husband or brother is in service, the city assessor should be notified immediately.

ARREST DRIVER AFTER ACCIDENT

Following a collision between a truck operated by Oscar Granis, North Cedar street, formerly of Beaver Falls and a car operated by Charles Alliger, 1010 Dewey avenue, Policemen Criswell and Wilkins arrested Granis on a charge of operating a car while intoxicated at 6 p. m. Saturday. Consequently Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna swore to a complaint against Granis before Alderman Samuel Bassano. Granis pleaded guilty and gave bail for appearance in Lawrence county court.

According to the police report of the accident, Granis was driving the truck west in East Washington street at Pearson street into the path of Alliger's auto which was traveling east.

THIRD WARD HEARINGS

City assessor's office reported today appeals from triennial taxes could be made by those of the Third ward who believe they have a legitimate complaint, between 10 a. m. and noon on October 2, in council chambers city hall. Objections from all other wards have been made, it was reported.

Faltering Tigers May Win Pennant, Cubs Not So Sure

Tigers Beaten By Browns As Senators Split With Macks In Final Games

CHICAGO CUBS DEFEAT PIRATES

By LES CONKLIN (International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The new book, "How to Capture an American League Pennant Without Winning Ball Games," soon will roll off the presses. It is being written by the Detroit Tigers, about to be pushed into the world series in the slimmest pennant "race" since Caesar wore rompers.

The faltering Tigers actually enhanced their prospects in the junior circuit flag race by losing to the St. Louis Browns yesterday while the second-place Washington Senators could get no better than an even break in a twin bill with the tail-end Philadelphia Athletics.

Washington Through

Washington has finished its schedule, thanks to the kind-spirited of Owner Clark Griffith in selling out his stadium to the Washington "Football Redskins" for a bit of the fifty cents. Meanwhile, an Detroit has to do to gain at least a tie to win one out of four. Of course the Tigers could clinch it by winning two out of four, but even that simple chore seems at the moment to be a Herculean task for the doddering Detroiters.

No matter which of the two clubs stumbles into first place when the last throw is lifted, the American league is going to be represented in the coming fall classic by a first class "cheese champion."

Meanwhile, in the National league the pace-setting Cubs simply must win at least one of their two games with Pittsburgh, today in order to be in shape for the imminent invasion of those brutal St. Louis Cardinals.

Yesterday, the Cubs downed Pittsburgh 7 to 3, with Hank Wyse recording his 21st victory.

Whitney Kuroski, 21st homer featured the Cardinals' 9 to 6 win over Cincinnati.

Gregg Hurls One-Hitter

Overshadowed by the pennant races was the brilliant feat of Hal Gregg in pitching his second one-hit game of the season for Brooklyn. He won 9 to 0. The Phils took the nightcap, 4 to 3.

The Boston Braves trimmed the New York Giants twice, 4 to 1 and 7 to 3.

Getting back to the American league, the Senators closed out their season with rookie outfielder George (Bingo) Binks losing an easy fly in the sun and paving the way to a 4 to 3 Philadelphia victory. The Nats took the nightcap, 4 to 3, in eight innings.

Feller Wins Again

The Tigers curled up before Nels Potter of the Browns, who held the league leaders to two hits in racking up his eighth straight win, 5 to 0.

New York's Yankees bowed to the Boston Red Sox 6 to 5, in 14 innings, and then beat Dave Ferriss for the fifth time this season in the five-inning nightcap by a 2 to 1 score.

Bob Feller of Cleveland held the Chicago White Sox to four hits and beat them 8 to 2.

Michigan State is Penn State's only new opponent in football this year.

Cubs And Pirates In Crucial Games

Pittsburgh Has Chance In Twin Bill Today To Drag Cubs Out Of First Place

By JAMES ENRIGHT (International News Service Staff Writer)

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Manager Charlie Grimm's league-leading Chicago Cubs are billed for double duty against the Pittsburgh Pirates today instead of enjoying a day off as originally planned by National league schedule makers.

The doubleheader was the result of two rained-out games, one of Saturday and yesterday's second of a scheduled twin bill.

Despite these weathered-out engagements, the Cubs' top ring margin of a game and a half still was intact going into today's games. The Chicago National league down Pittsburgh 7 to 3 yesterday to match the St. Louis Cardinals 9 to 6 triumph over Cincinnati.

Andy Patko Shines

In beating Pittsburgh, Andy Patko stamped him off a real hero with 43.755 paid fans in Wrigley field yesterday.

It was "Patko Day" and this automatically means the honored guest generally performs like a second-rater. But not Andy. He proved himself a real full-of-right champion by fashioneing his second grand slam home run in 20 days.

In attempting to catch up on the weather-out games today, Cub pitching was turned over to Ray "Pappy" Prim, 39-year-old left hander, and Claude Passeau. Claude was well warmed up and ready for action when the rain arrived yesterday to provide him with two additional days rest.

Against the Prim-Passeau duo Pittsburgh was to function behind Rip Sewell and Fritz Ostermaier.

Collection At Football Game Is Almost $600

Football Fans Respond Notably For Aid Of Injured Butler Player

Exceeding the estimates of what it would total, the collection taken at the Youngstown East-New Castle football game Friday night, September 21, for the treatment of Dick Bettes, Butler halfback, amounted to $599.69, Chairman Carl E. Paisley announced today.

In addition, J. Paisley has about $80 in contributions which have been left at his store, making a total of $679.59. Contributions may still be made at the Paisley store.

Bettes was injured a week ago when he was hit in the eye by a BB bullet fired from a slingshot in the hands of a boy in the bleachers at Taggart stadium. Bettes was taken to the Butler hospital where he has been ever since. A specialist was called from Pittsburgh and an operation performed. He is said to be showing some improvement now.

Following the unfortunate incident, Mr. Paisley suggested that it would be a fine gesture of good will if the fans of New Castle would underwrite the expense of Bettes' treatment. Acting upon this idea Mr. Paisley started the fund going and then arranged to have a collection taken at the football game last Friday night.

In a short time the money will be paid over to the proper person in Butler.

By Nelson Sets New World Record

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 24.—(INS)—Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., was master of the weather and position yesterday in the final round of the $10,000 Esmeralda open golf tournament over Spokane's Indian Canyon course.

Nelson carded eight under par 66 Sunday for a grand total of 264. That was plenty good for first money, $2000 in war bonds, but it also set a new world record—22 under par for 72 holes. Nelson was out in 33 and came back in 31.

Banquet Tickets Placed On Sale

Tickets for the coming Lawrence County Baseball league banquet at the Castleton hotel will go on sale today at the Sporting Goods store. The banquet date is to be open to the public. Harold "Pie" Traynor, famous Pittsburgh third sacker and one-time manager, along with Cal Hubbard will be the main speakers at the dinner honoring the Ellwood City Boosters, 1945 county league champions. The tickets will sell for two dollars per plate.

Legion Of Merit Award For Louis

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Sgt. Joe Louis, world heavyweight champion, today held the Legion of Merit award.

The medal was presented to Louis by Maj. Gen. Clarence H. Kelly, commanding general of the New York port of embarkation. The champion was cited for entertaining two million soldiers in various war theatres by boxing exhibitions.

The application of a thin layer of plastic will insure stainless tablecloths, draperies, gloves, linings, covering, greatly strengthened knitted fabrics, foundation garments, bathing caps and baby garments in the postwar period.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Quick pickups along the sports trail: It looks as though the Detroit Tigers will win the American league pennant after all in spite of everything, including the weather which fell in large damp buckets at Cleveland yesterday... and if they manage to come through the victory would be popular generally... Washington as usual has managed to build up a lot of animosity.

Owner Clark Griffith of the Senators persists in running his ball club like a bargain basement 10-cent novelty... He apparently hasn't learned yet that there are modern times and that baseball is a big business... he cut his baseball season short so the Washington Redskins could take over his park and thus will finish a week ahead of everybody else.

Fox Will Retire

Announcement by Jimmy Fox that he definitely is retiring from baseball to enter business takes from the diamond one of the greatest figures the game has seen... He led the American league in hitting twice and hit 58 home runs one season besides playing a lot of first base for several teams.

The American league again this season is going to produce a batting champion with an average... Lou Boudreau, of the Indians, won the crown last year with a mark about the size of his hat... Tony Cuccinello, of the White Sox, is in front now with even a lower figure than the one compiled by Boudreau, or 310 roughly... the meantime National league hitters are going at a pace 40 points higher... It looks as though the American won't do anything in the hitting department since Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams and a few others of that ilk departed the scene.

Sweaters, Jackets Men's, Boys' Right now we have a large selection of these garments for work, sportswear or school wear. It will pay you to see the many styles.

HERSHEY, Pa., map apply for a National Football League franchise in 1946. Since the town's team in the American Hockey League is known as the Hershey Bears, the gridders probably would settle for "Chocolate Bar's". Word from Delaware, O., is that no admission will be charged for any intercollegiate athletic event at Ohio Wesleyan U. this year because of the celebration of victory year... One football stadium, where all passes are out—except on the field... George (Snuffy) Stumweiss, who is proving to be a better baseball player than a football star, is to be honored in New York with a "Stumweiss Day" on September 29. Stumweiss is a native New Yorker and has starred for the Yanks for two seasons.

Quality of football played on the nation's grids this fall may or may not be better than in the 1944 war year, but at least one thing is certain. It is that this will be the year of big crowds. The nation's sports fans, apparently, have gone overboard for the grid game, judging by pre-season attendance figures and the morning of college ticket officials who just can't seem to dig up a seat for that big game or games. The All-Star game in Chicago started out with a mob of 90,000. Then, to the surprise of everyone, a tremendous throng of 92,000 turned out for a pro exhibition in Philadelphia. The opener on the west coast between U. C. L. A. and Southern California had an advance sale which indicated a crowd of 75,000 or more. Tickets for the Notre Dame-Navy game in Cleveland on November 3 are absolutely gone. According to Walt Kennedy, the Irish publicist, there isn't even a general admission seat open. That means a crowd of upwards of 80,000 persons. The Army-Navy game naturally will be a sellout. The Army-Notre Dame game in New York already is a sellout. Michigan-Ohio State will sell out the Michigan stadium late in November. The other big rivalries will draw huge crowds.

Bobby Feller continues to draw attention with his amazing pitching exploits... Bob recently twirled a one-hitter against the Tigers and it was one of the best-pitched games he has ever tossed... The strange thing about Mr. Feller is that he is not known as the speedball king but is throwing more and more curves... He has a wicked curve which just zips across the outside corner and it's plenty tough to hit.

County Gridders Busy This Week

New Castle Will Play Sharon At Stadium, Union, Shennango, Bessemer At Home

All five Lawrence county high school football teams will play this week. Four of them at home and one away.

New Castle with three victories in a row will face the Sharon High Tigers at the stadium on Friday night at 8 o'clock, and will strive to make it four in a row.

Ellwood City will play at Butler Saturday afternoon, the only county school playing away from home.

Union High will be at home Friday for its second game with the Evans City High team furnishing the opposition. Union has dropped the first two, and hope to get started with a win this week.

Shennango will be at home Friday with the new George Junior Republic team as opponents. Shennango has lost to Freedom and tied Zanesville in two previous starts. This will be the first home game for Shennango.

Bessemer High will play Lowellville at Bessemer for the first home game. Bessemer has defeated Evans City and Mercer and lost one to Sharpsville in three previous starts.

Class AA Race Narrowing Down

New Castle High is still among the top contenders in class AA after another terrific week-end that saw seven more class AA teams fall by the wayside. McKeesport, Redstone, Monacaheela, Vandy, Zett, Brookville and Ellwood City.

The topnotchers left undefeated in class AA are New Castle, Donora, Aliquippa, Clinton, Turtle Creek and New Kensington.

Wagner Enters Navy Air Corps

A top reserve high schooler, Wagner entered the navy air corps but returned to the squad in January, 1944, after receiving a medical discharge.

Serious Leg Handicap

Despite a serious leg handicap Wagner has tried to hold on to his first string forward berth. He had a muscle removed from his right leg while in the navy and has lost all feeling in his leg. He wears a special elastic band on the injured leg for support.

Wagner measures 5 feet 11 inches but he has been the smallest member on the last two Titan squads beside his "skyscraper" floor mates.

At Gettysburg high school Wagner won two varsity letters under Coach William Dolz. He served as co-captain his senior year and was named on the all-county and all-opponent teams.

ALTOONA OPENS WITH WIN

Altoona High opened the 1945 grid season at Altoona Saturday by defeating Pittsburgh South High 28 to 6, with a storm of power. New Castle High plays at Altoona on Saturday October 6.

Binks Is 'Goat' As Senators Lose In Extra-Innings

Rookie Outfielder Drops Fly Ball In Sun As Nats Lose To Macks In 12th

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—(INS)—George (Bingo) Binks, rookie outfielder of the Washington Senators, emerged today as the goat of Washington's costly defeat in the first game of a double-header with the Philadelphia Athletics here Sunday.

With two out in the 12th inning of the first game, Binks lost a fly in the sun and the result was a loss for the Nats which put about 100,000 of the American League pennant race.

In the clubhouse after the game, the Senators were grimly meditating upon the failure of Binks to gun sun glasses. Gray beards, were mulling over costly losses in the past.

One Washington player was glaring at Binks and mentally computing the share of world series money he might have won but still possibly might win if Bink had been sun glasses.

They ought to, this player mulled, to lose him $4,000.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Nats, could not be reached for comment on the chances of his players, now a game behind Detroit with their season finished, and unable to help themselves in the race with the Tigers.

Manager Ossie Bluege, had nothing to say about Binks' failure to get sun glasses when the sun desired briefly after hours of rain.

Washington 21, Green Bay 7. Philadelphia 14, Cleveland 7 and Chicago Bears 14 New York 13.

Noted Artists Give New Twist To Cards For Yule Greetings

Christmas Card Gallery Shows Less Tradition, More Artistry And Variety In Display

By JEANETTE SMITS
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Do Christmas cards have to look the way they always do?

Do the same reindeer, Santa, holly wreaths, sleigh bells and snow scenes have to decorate these traditional messages of greeting for the year's happiest holiday?

Smartness Originality
Why can't Christmas cards be smart and original—even miniature works of art, which the recipient will be glad to cherish?

Officials of one of New York's leading department stores pondered these questions—and came up with answers.

The result is the Christmas card gallery, just placed on view at Saks Fifth Avenue, an unusual group of designs, bright in color, some interpreting the symbolic spirit of Christmas in a fashion reminiscent of the medieval, others timely and modern.

An interesting feature of this collection is the representation of designs by top-flight fashion artists—never before represented in the Christmas card field.

Pell Sharp, English born, depicts Christmas in the jolly, robust Dickens manner. His cards are replete with wassail bowls, flaming plum puddings and carolers.

Peasant Color Schemes
Jacqueline Lindner has employed the use of brilliant colors like those of the peasant costumes in her native Bavaria.

Also represented are Isabel Bartram, with a charming card portraying the younger generation, and Dora de Vries, outstanding award winner, with two outdoor Christmas scenes.

Some of the most unusual designs are the work of Ruth Reeves, directing head of the textile design department at Cooper Union in New York City.

In addition to its own exclusive collection, the store has included cards of the American artists group and the designers and illustrators series.

Whether this new idea will grow to the proportions of a "trend" remains to be seen—but meanwhile it's a novel and fascinating way of saying "Merry Christmas."

Only One Of Five State Memorials In France Ruined

Second World War Result To First World War Memorials Revealed

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—(INS)—The state military reservation disclosed today that only one of the five memorials honoring Pennsylvania's fighting men of World War I had been destroyed when allied armies swept through France and Belgium.

Major Gen. William G. Price, Jr., retired, of Chester, a commission member, said reports indicated the only memorial destroyed was a modern bridge at Esnes, France, erected two decades ago to commemorate the bloody struggle waged by Pennsylvania's 28th division to capture the original wooden structure in 1918.

Escape Serious Damage
Believed to have escaped serious damage was a large monument and park at Varennes, France, honoring all Pennsylvanians who served overseas in World War I.

Other memorials, which were constructed by the federal government, honored Pennsylvanians who served with the 79th (Cross of Lorraine) division, the 80th (Blue Ridge) brigade, the latter unit was detached from the 13th and incorporated into the 91st division.

Price explained that the General Assembly appropriated $300,000 in 1923 for monuments in France and Belgium to perpetuate the valiant deeds of Pennsylvania fighting men.

He said the Esnes memorial was designed by the late Paul Cret of Philadelphia, and Col. Thomas Atherton of Wilkes-Barre.

No Plans To Rebuild
Price indicated there were no plans under consideration to rebuild the Esnes memorial.

The 79th division monument is located at Montfaucon, and 80th at Nantillois, both in France, while the memorial for the artillery brigade is near Audenarde, Belgium.

Price said.

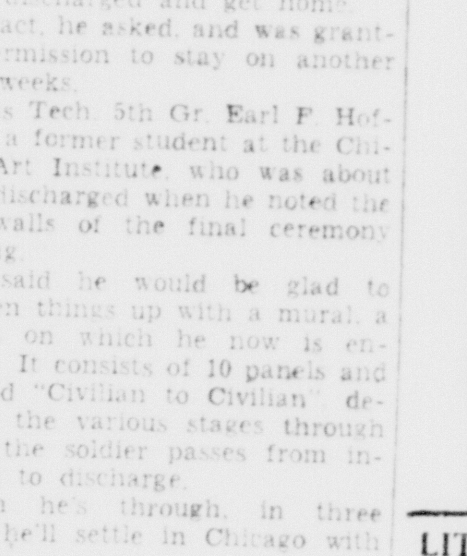

In the spring of 1928, approximately 300 men who had served overseas in 1917 and 1918, traveled to France to witness ceremonies dedicating the memorials.

Among the veterans who recrossed the Atlantic was Edward Martin, now governor, who served with distinction in the 28th.

Price explained that prior to the outbreak of war in 1939, the commission paid a French resident of Varennes, approximately $30 a month to supervise the Pennsylvania shrine.

Infamous Omori Will House Jap War Criminals

Japanese Will Be Held In Camp. Now Being De-
loused, Where U. S.
Soldiers Suffered

TOKYO, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Japanese war criminals, who now are being held in the Yokohama jail, will soon be moved to the infamous Omori prison where Allied prisoners were mistreated by the Japs for three years.

Thirty-two men named on the war criminal list now are held in the Yokohama jail.

"My family grows day by day," Lieut. Gen. Robert Eichelberger, Eighth Army Commander, said, discussing the war criminals. "Tojo is still in the hospital but I trust his health will permit his being moved to one of the cells in the near future."

Eichelberger added he would soon move the war criminals to the prison camp "where our men were so terribly mistreated during their years of incarceration."

The Eighth Army commander said that the Japanese prisoners would be fed adequate on Army hard rations.

"I wouldn't descend to their level," he explained. "They'll have necessities—but nothing more."

The Omori prison camp currently is being deloused.

Christmas Seals For Overseas Mail

For the convenience of relatives and friends sending holiday packages overseas, Christmas Seals may be obtained now at headquarters of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, 215 L. S. & T. building, according to an announcement made today by the society's president, J. O. Huston. The seals will not be distributed generally until Nov. 19, but they have been made available for use on service men's mail.

"We have had requests," he said, "for seals to put on overseas mail and we are glad to provide them for Christmas packages to the boys and girls away from home."

"Christmas Seals as an American tradition show our men abroad that we are not letting down health standards at home but are fighting to keep the dread disease, tuberculosis, under control in our communities."

In announcing the mailing plan for the 1945 holidays, the post office points out that the task is more complicated because of the cessation of hostilities and the redeployment of men and women. Mail efforts may be sent overseas from September 15 to October 15 without the written request of the recipient. A total of 32,000,000 Christmas packages were sent to military personnel overseas last year.

The Julian calendar established New Year, on Jan. 1. The first month of the year was named January after Janus, the two-faced Roman god, who served as a protector of both sides of gates and entrance ways.
